The difference between ordinary and extraordinary is that little extra

The difference between ordinary and extraordinary is that little extra. This has been the maxim to which IPC has worked throughout Europe and has substantially contributed to our explosive growth globally.

Many years ago we brought to the industrial market place the concept of highly concentrated cleaning liquids. These innovative products, designed for multi purpose usage, operate simply by diluting with water to suit the task in question. They have now been supplied to over 100,000 clients throughout Europe in all sectors of industry.

As more and more companies become specialised, we have recognised that demands and standards are becoming even more specific. Our research department has over the past few years concentrated all its efforts to identify these areas and solve each individual problem. We can now offer our clients a range of products which cater for any cleaning problem created by today's technology. We are confident that we can always solve your cleaning problems and offer truly extraordinary products and give you a little extra, in service and performance.
